

Lies

Sunset Sons

Tell me the truth, why do you tell me lies?
Another game, another precious disguise.
I asked you questions, you seemed so surprised

Lost and stolen, bleeding high
Another reason to go back to the start
I'm tired of thinking, tired of opening wide
Show me something, show me tears when you cry

Why do you lie to me, to me?
Why do you take?
Why do you break?
So many promises that you make
Why do you lie to me?
Why do you lie to me?

This was the perfect day
The kinda love you couldn't let ride away
Hopeless people, midnight dream
The only one you left floating down a one way street
I wish, I hope I never see you again
The only time I'm gonna win win win
Lift right up darling in my head
Then I'm crazy
I think I'm crazy

Why do you lie to me, to me?
Why do you take?
Why do you break?
So many promises that you make
Why do you lie to me?
Why do you lie to me?

Why do you lie to me?
Why do you take?
Why do you break?
So many promises that you make
Why do you lie to me?

Why do you lie to me?
