

The clock's down, there ain't no sound
You stare into the dark, you're just waiting to be found out
The clock stopped, no more tick tock,
Blood burning up my veins, but I'm nailed to the same spot
We both know I won't let go, pushing back and forth,
You're the trigger, I'm a pistol
In my sights, I ain't gon' lie,
I'm on your side, I'm on your side

I got time when nobody got time but me,
Why you rolling with your fists up?
You ain't mine, and I ain't your enemy
You got it all mixed up
All revved up and I'm ready to fight
You better watch out if you know what's right
'Cause I got time when nobody got time but me

She said go, tell me what you know
Who you're having fun with,
Fighting back and forth with
A fine line, we're walking all the time.
Anyway you want it, be careful when you got it
Don't be scared, I got you prepared.
Take what you want, have what you need.
'Cause I got something you don't have
But I'm on your side, I'm on your side

I got time when nobody got time but me,
Why you rolling with your fists up?
You ain't mine, and I ain't your enemy
You got it all mixed up
All revved up and I'm ready to fight
You better watch out if you know what's right
'Cause I got time when nobody got time but me

Tick tock read the writing on the wall
It's written ten feet tall to tell you
I'm on your side, I'm on your side
Tick tock read the writing on the wall
It's written so damn tall to tell you
I'm on your side, I'm on your side

I'm on your side,
I'm on your side, I'm on your side
I'm on your side
I'm on your side, I'm on your side
I'm on your side,
I'm on your side, I'm on your side
