

Ghetto

Sunshine

Stay calm and watch your back
Pick up and run, burn the flag
Count down, say this is forever
Forever means now

What's next, it's unpredictable
From now on, the time is flexible
Lick the sparks, it will make you invisible
Destination's unknown

Payroll has got your name
Black hole inside the frame
What's that?
You're fucking around
What's that?
Are we living in the ghetto?
Snowball is getting x-ray
Your faith is turning to grey
What's that?
You're fucking around
What's that?
Are we living in the ghetto?
Is this a ghetto?
Yes, it is

Mediocre dreams lie beneath your pillow
Stay away from this side of the town
In the time of loneliness
I fell into arms of enemies
What you see is blind
What you feel is numb

Growing up in these fields, on this side of the town
Split in half, my memories haunting me
I am like a DI box, the king without a crown
Getting tired of disguise around me
