

Down a Different River

Super Furry Animals

Stuffed to the eyeballs with God knows what You're a conversational hazard
Talking so quickly with so much ease
I think you might have just snorted a blizzard
Oh, won't you tell it to someone else?
And we'll go down a different river
And we'll see where it carries us
Meet me at the muster station
And if the ship's going down we'll swim for the ground
Come on, come and join us here
Living a lie when I'm lying here
I've got windswept eyes in the morning
Doesn't improve as the day goes on
You've got a shag pile perm in the evening
If I could only make out the door
And we'll go down a different river
And we'll see where it carries us
Meet me at the muster station
And if the ship's going down we'll swim for the ground
Come on, come and join us here, here, here, here
If I could only make out the door
If I could only make out the door
If I could only make out the door
If I could only make out the door
 (Slowly down a different river)
If I could only make out the door
 (Slowly down a different river)
If I could only make out the door
 (Slowly down a different river)
If I could only make out the door
 (Slowly down a different river)
If I could only make out the door
 (Slowly down a different river)
If I could only make out the door
 (Slowly down a different river)
Slowly down a
