

World Keeps Turning

SuperHeavy

Now it's, now it's, now it's...

Word!

Hey

Nice to be important but important to be nice

So just stare that at I

Tell me love, what would you say?

If I came to you on judgement day

And I laid out my life

How did I do for your love?

Was I a lover?

Or did I choose to fight?

Did I embrace my brother, no color, no stripes?

While the world keeps turning

(I'll be waiting all day long)

And life goes on

(When the night falls I'll still be standing strong)

And the fires keep on burning

(And the morning will still be ours)

Let your heart stay strong

(Oh yes we will)

Let your heart stay strong

Long live the world

How do you feel?

Watching our babies die just for dollar signs

This is real!

We can hear you all

Your opinions are true

There's only one thing left to do.

Speak, we'll hear you.

Speak, we'll hear you.

Loud and proud

While the world keeps turning

(I'll be waiting all day long)

And life goes on

(When the night falls I'll still be standing strong)

And the fires keep on burning

(And the morning will still be ours)

Let your heart stay strong

(Oh yes we will)

Let your heart stay strong

Now tell me love

How should we feel?

So your speech be nice in such harsh times

The human race gets bold

So send out some life now

It's true today we lie

So send them some smiles

Send them some smiles

While the world keeps turning

(I'll be waiting, waiting all night long)

And life goes on

(When the night falls I'll still be standing strong)
And the fires keep burning
(And the morning will still be ours)
Let your heart stay strong
(Oh yes we will)
Let your heart stay strong
Let your heart stay strong
Stay strong
