

Dress Like a Target

Superjoint Ritual

Infamously marked by every generation known
Somehow they look like, the dicks from generations old
But they're new

No one in here is trusted to kill everyone is to love everyone
Do what you can till your busted
Then keep the word, then keep the word
Dress like a target

Never to be trusted, to kill anyone is to love everyone
Rise up and never be busted
So keep the word, so keep the word
Infamously

Infamously hated, kill every generation known
It's stupid that they look like, the generation fucking old
But they're new

They're new because the media says so
They're new because the media likes it
They're new because the media sucks up

Grow your hair as long a a hippies
But we're not hippies we're slippys
Like the Manson family dress like a target, target us
With massive and sweating hands

Target us, 'cause in your minds I'm afraid of you
You don't exist we're rising up

No one in here is trusted to kill everyone is to love everyone
Do what you can till your busted
Then keep the word, then keep the word
Dress like a target

Never to be trusted, to kill anyone is to love everyone
Rise up and never be busted
So, keep the word, so keep the word
Infamously
