Just a Normal Day

Supertramp

Oo, woke up crying With a break of dawning; I looked out at the sky. The air was still, Yet all the leaves were falling, Can you tell me why? Well I just don't know the reason, I don't know what to say; It just seems a normal day. And I've got to live my own life; I just can't spare the time, 'Cause you've got strange things on your mind.

Well, I just feel That ev'ry minute's wasted; My life is unreal. And anyway, I guess I'm, I'm just not rated, Leastwise, that's how I feel. Well I just don't know the reason, I don't know what to say; It just seems a normal day. And I've got to live my own life; I just can't spare the time, You've got strange things on your mind.

I eat a lot, Sleep a lot, Passing the time of day; Maybe I'll find my way. Who am I kidding? Yes, it's just myself.
