7 and 7 10 51 is the number, but had no fun heart beating wild before I hung up, Christ, what was I thinking I've told myself a thousand times, at last it's only simple lines There`s more than I could ever give, but what I`ve been giving the answer comes the more I`m thinking, all I got to give`s my soul but I thought that`s what I`m giving, nov I`m living sole

REF: Day, everything's alone, in all yet another coming
Day, everything's away, sun lost it's light
Day, everything's alone, in all yet another coming
Day, everything's away, and all there is, all there is running

7 and 7 10 51 is the number I dialed, but had no fun the more I dialed the more I drank, each shot just lead me to a hung more than I could ever give, but the telephone's not ringing and after all to sore I'm driven, so I'm singing

REF: Day, everything's alone, in all yet another coming
Day, everything's away, sun lost it's light
Day, everything's alone, in all yet another coming
Day, everything's away, and all there is, all there is running

Glowing in a bottle of my lies glowing of my lies won't make me chance nothing at all I do for you is right all I can tell you, about the same there's nothing but my ego till I fall there's nothing but a silly frosted brain so, there's no one calling there's no one calling there's no one calling for my name

The telephone ain't ringing [is it a deaf telephone] still the telephone ain't ringing
