

Until The End Of Time

Supreme Majesty

Come a little closer
And let me feel your warmth Feel your skin towards mine, feel the passion burn inside
We are all that matters
Let us hide here for a while You and I, and leave our worries, all that's bad behind

Cause tonight, you fulfilled my life
And tonight, I want to hold you so tight

So please don't leave without a sign And please be here when sunlight breaks at dawn
When the night walks on home
And if you're scared of letting go I will be waiting here forevermore, right until the end of time

I have dreamed about you Through lonesome endless nights You were there beside me, even though you're far away
Through a stormy ocean
Through the pitch-black depths of time I have sailed afar and nothing's ever felt like home

But now your here, and fulfil my life
You're here tonight, I will hold on to you tight
