Can't Let You Go

Two eyes that haunt me When I turn out the light Two lips that taunt me From the darkness each night I try and hide my heart To keep my distance in the dark What makes me fall apart And call out your name Just when I'm certain That you're out of my mind This feeling grips me So hard to define This yearning inside Just can't deny it

My heart's been branded I can't let you go Don't understand it Just can't tell you no Don't leave me stranded Cause I just can't let you go

It's such a fine line I walk on the wire Your hearts a magnet pulling me to the fire Girls like you are hard to shake Like habits hard as hell to break It might be my mistake But I need you tonight You must have something To have held me so long I'm not accustomed To a feeling so strong Don't tell me it's wrong -just can't deny it

My heart's been branded I can't let you go Don't understand it Just can't tell you no Don't leave me stranded Cause I just can't let you go
