

Seconds Away

Survivor

These are the days
The time we've been given
To do what we will, what we can.

The streets of the city
They flow like a river
And those dreams, they can slip through your hands.

How will I see if I cannot believe it
How in the world would I know.
How will I fly if I cannot conceive it
Still we all need to know.

We're seconds away, from another tomorrow.
Seconds away, from another hello.
Seconds away, from a moment of sorrow.
We're seconds away.

With every heartbeat
I can feel it
Something keeps driving me on.

Must be the call of my own human spirit.
This thing's an addiction,
And just keeps holdin' on.

How will I see if I cannot believe it
How in the world would I know.
How will I fly if I cannot conceive it
Still we all need to know.

We're seconds away, from another tomorrow.
Seconds away, from another hello.
Seconds away, from a moment of sorrow. (yeah)
We're seconds away.

Some life is forever, some are out of time.
Some still chase their passions
Some leave them all behind.

Everything keeps changing
It can all turn on a dime
In the blink of an eye.

(Music interlude)

We're seconds away, from another tomorrow.
Seconds away, from another hello.
Seconds away, from a moment of sorrow.
We're seconds away.

We're seconds away...
Seconds away...
Seconds away, from a moment of sorrow.
We're seconds away.
