Wings to Fly

Susan Boyle

Want to spread my wings and fly Away into the sky How I dream to be so free No more sadness no more pain No more anger no more hate How I dream to have those wings and fly into the sky

If now, I could grant my wish I'd wish to have those wings Those wings just like the birds That fly up in the air

So high up in the air With feathers bright and fair No wealth nor power can make My heart filled with such joy

Want to spread my wings and fly Away into the sky How I dream to be so free No more sadness no more pain No more anger no more hate How I dream to have those wings and fly into the sky

Want to spread my wings and fly Away into the sky How I dream to be so free No more sadness no more pain No more anger no more hate How I dream to have those wings and fly into the sky I'd fly With those wings....
