

It's All Gone Tomorrow

Susanne Sundfør

I pull the trigger at your command
You put the last host of Christendom in my hand
Well it was all a lie
It was all a motion picture crime

If I wanted to jump out of a window
I'd probably change my mind between the eight and seventh floor
Well I did it in the light
For a moment there I did it in the light

So if you steal, then I will borrow
And if you flee, then I will follow
Then I'll disappear, it's all gone tomorrow

'Cause you make me bleed, ah, you make me breathe
You make me bleed, oh-ooh, you make me breathe

I cannot see across the border anymore
I am in a maze waving white flags on every single corner
And right above my eyes
I see the credits coming to life

So if you steal, then I will borrow
And if you flee, then I will follow
Then I'll disappear, it's all gone tomorrow

So if you steal, then I will borrow
And if you flee, then I will follow
Then I'll disappear, it's all gone tomorrow
Then I'll disappear, it's all gone tomorrow

'Cause you make me bleed, ah, you make me breathe
You make me bleed, ah, you make me breathe
You make me bleed, ah, you make me breathe
You make me bleed, oh-ooh, you make me breathe