

Undercover

Susanne Sundfør

Don't trust the ones who love you
Cause if you love them back
They'll always disappoint you
Its just a matter of fact

Don't love the ones who trust you
It's just not in your heart
You're a teasing little twister and they're dancers in the dark
, oh but

I wish I had a lover who'd keep it undercover
We could live our dreams, we'd sail on golden wings
I wish I had a lover who'll keep it undercover
Someone who wouldn't bother
To tell me what to feel
To tell me what is real

It's not a lot I'm asking for

They'll kiss you in the evening, devils in disguise
And love you 'till the morning then vanish before your eyes
A walking disaster king or a soul master
A graceful posture, but where's the dignity when

I wish I had a lover who'd keep it undercover
We could live our dreams, we'd sail on golden wings
I wish I had a lover, someone who wouldn't bother
To tell me what to feel
To tell me what is real

I wish I had a lover who'd keep it undercover
We could live our dreams, we'd sail on golden wings
I wish I had a lover, someone who wouldn't bother
To tell me what to feel
To tell me what is real

It wouldn't even bother
If you didn't even bother
To be more than a lover

It wouldn't even bother
If I didn't even bother
To believe it all forever
