This, this is your life
Can you believe the things you have seen?
Don't let them know
Here, here is your anger
Deep down inside
Hold it forever, don't let it go

Mister, do you know your name? Can you see my face? The reason for you to stay here is 'cause all others left you

Stranger, do you confess to this?

The crimes presented here

The arrival of these many men means they're gonna test you

Tell me the reason we found you on the floor Covered in blood and speaking in tongue

Wash off that smile and look me into the eyes Give me a reason to let you go back Tell me the reason we found you in here house Covered in blood and speaking in tongue

Speaking in tongue Speaking in tongue

Mister, behave and sell your soul Forget about the price You'll sell it anyway Once they are through with you

Stranger, deep inside your mind The secrets lie untold They want to pull them out But they cannot reach you

This, this is your life
Can you believe the things you have seen?
Don't let them know
Here, here is your anger
Deep down inside
Hold it forever, don't let it go

Mister, are you still inside? Can they break the shell? They only want to help But they'll never reach you

Speak now or forever hold it
