

The Fire Dancer

Suspyre

For creatures free from laws take heed
Assume what sex and shape they please
The one to split the broken nail
A girl more deadly than the male
The serpent roaming in the night
Full of evil and no contrite
A sweet disorder in the dress
The deadly scene I must possess

The shadows knew their way
But now they start to fade...

Given the strength to carry on
Set to take the remedy further
My voice is the power inside
Burning moves of the fire dancer

What is gathered and what is lost
For nothing gained and at what cost
Reproach will never mend the young
Suppressing words upon my tongue
Now you must die I have the claims
Set to burn you down in the flames
The mind you sent into a trance
Will never miss the fire dance

Given the strength to carry on
Set to take the remedy further
My voice is the power inside
Burning moves of the fire dancer

The stars were gathered and set to view
But never should have been given to you
The wait for something else to bleed
Gave way to someone finally...

Given the strength to carry on
Set to take the remedy further
My voice is the power inside
Burning moves of the fire dancer
