

Lovin' A Hurricane

Suzy Bogguss

You answer questions like a natural disaster
Voices in the wind, you let 'em call me out
The whole foundation just went flying past here
I put my heart into it and you just yank it out

You pulled my love out through the windowpane
That's what I get for lovin' a hurricane

I could've run off with some Texas tornado
Some mister twister, I could kick up my boot heels with Could've rode him on down to Laredo
But you blew up on the gulf like a hot, wet kiss

Blew my mind, fast as a bullet train
That's what I get for lovin' a hurricane

Wah, wah, wind and rain
Wah, wah, oh it's a shame
That's what I get for lovin' a hurricane

I might've known you'd get it sooner or later
Living in that trailer park out on the sandy beach
Tides roll in like big dream generators
Forces of nature blow everything out of reach

Water in my living room, fire up in my brain
That's what I get for lovin' a hurricane

Wah, wah, wind and rain
Wah, wah, oh it's a shame
That's what I get for lovin' a hurricane
