You know I've tried to cool it I've been trying to settle down But when I think I've made it It drives me crazy

Well, I'm staying on the wild side Always hit the higher ground Nothing I do could amaze me

I'm so restless, so restless
You know it's too late now
Too late now, too late now
Too late now

Well, I've always been outrageous But a change has got to come Making up my mind was never easy

I was born too late to love you
The day will never come
It's love that I need so don't tease me

I'm so restless, so restless You know it's too late now Too late now, too late now Too late now

I'm so restless, so restless
I gotta say it's too late now
Too late now, too late now
Too late now

I gotta say ya, too late now Too late now, too late now Too late now
