

Break Down

Sweetbox

Maybe I'm starting to cry
But I don't know
'Cause the feelings so strong
And I just don't know what's wrong
oh tell me
Have you been willing to try to ease the load?
It's getting heavy to hold
Sometimes I'm wondering how far to go

Who'll take the blame this time?
Who's gonna be wrong or right?
Who's gonna convict the crime?
All tough with pride
We said we'd
Never be the stereotype
Never be stuck in life
And never ever be so close to goodbye but...

* When I see your face
It could be love or hate
I'm burning up with rage - up with rage
I'm gonna break, I'm gonna break
Oh baby I'm breaking down
I'm living misery
But I don't wanna be Caught up in jealousy
But this ain't me
I'm gonna break
I'm gonna break
Oh baby I'm breaking down

Will I just be wondering why
This didn't work
With my face in the dirt
Seems I've been loving to hurt
Oh tell me
Was it worth the lost time?
Good or bad?
Am I happy or sad?
Feel like I lost what I never had

Should we just say goodbye?
Is it even worth the try?
I stay awake at night turning words in my head
Caught up in reverie
Of what we'll never be
And maybe baby what we never were
