

Everything Is Nothing

Sweetbox

baby i just didnt realize i cant believe you wanna say goodbye i shouldve seen it coming long before and pay attention to ya a little more i know ive done you wrong now youre almost gone all the lonely nights let me make it right still the world is turning and my heart is pumping voice and emotions running through my vein (takes) that special something took in my attention everything is nothing no its nothing if i dont have you do you remember when our love is new you said well be forever and it was true we made promises much too hard to keep but we can make it work i do believe everything comes true i beg you only knew what is meant to be doesnt come easy we got all A from what we had back then so dont say it has to end the consequence i didnt see you might walk away from me taking it for granted you were mine
