Read my mind Read my mind In your eyes you look so weary Fighting light with dark and dreary And even though you can't hear me I'll still sing You go to church and pray on Sunday You think your sins are cleaned up that way Don't you know forgiveness just begins with you If you could read my mind Just read my mind Then you could see What's behind my eyes If you could read my mind Your hands untied Cause the battlefield is tired Get a little bit stupid sometimes Get a little bit jealous sometimes Sometiomes I'll be unfair but that's just me I know that I'm not hiding And I won't let your chains bind me Because prefection is not the point of this If you could read my mind Just read my mind Then you could see What's behind my eyes If you could read my mind Your hands untied Cause the battlefield is tired If you could read my mind Just read my mind Then you could see What's behind my eyes If you could read my mind Your hands untied Cause the battlefield is tired If love made sense Then I think there would be a book To tell us who is really right and wrong But I don't want something simple I don't want to sing a normal song Let's just close our eyes and let it be Cause the battlefield is tired If you could read my mind Just read my mind Then you could see What's behind my eyes If you could read my mind Your hands untied Cause the battlefield is tired Let's just close our eyes and let it be Cause the battlefield is tired
