

She Changes the Weather

Swim Deep

She takes my time,
She grows the flowers in my mind,
She makes it shine in my mood.
She makes me trip,
The words just fall out of my lips,
And I forgot how to lie.
A song reminds me
As I track my life
It's easy as 369, 369

Seen it all, but I've seen nothing yet,
Cause I forget
Do I know or do I think I know?
It's so weird,
It's so clear

She takes my time, but I don't mind
She makes me feel like
Like I can see for miles.
She changes the weather in my world,
Seems like it's never getting cold.

It's okay,
It's not obvious,
Cause what you say will make my day
Rid of consequence
It's so weird
But it's so clear

She takes my time, but I don't mind
She makes me feel like
Like I can see for miles.
She changes the weather in my world,
Seems like we're never getting old.

She takes my time, but I don't mind
She makes me feel like
Like I can see for miles.
She changes the weather in my world,
Seems like it's never getting cold.
