Communion

Swing Out Sister

Broken dreams a seething silence No one hears Silent screams And poisoned lies no one shares

When life's a crime Our time has come For some do shun Communion

Tears and laughter share your fears
To ease the pain
Conversation heals the wounds that we'll make

When life's a crime Our time has come For some do shun Communion

In lost traditions a love worth giving We'll find a place

Broken dreams a seething silence No one hears Silent screams And poisoned lies no one shares

When life's a crime Our time has come For some do shun Communion

We'll find a place for We'll find a place We'll find a place for Communion
