

Precious Words

Swing Out Sister

Another strange awakening
Another memory on its way
Another night in an empty room
Another throw away day

How long
Must I go on fooling myself
In a world of make-believe

Precious words
Are all that I have left to prove
That I've nothing more left to lose

Precious words won't bring you back to me
Precious words won't bring you back to me

Loneliness says much more
Than a thousand words ever said
Conversations pass me by
I'm left with silence instead

How long must I go on fooling myself
In a world of make-believe

Precious words
Are all that I have left to prove
That I've nothing more left to lose

Precious words won't bring you back to me
Precious words won't bring you back to me

You left my world empty
Now there's nothing to say

Precious words
Won't bring you back to me...

How long
Must I go on fooling myself
In a world of make-believe

Precious words
Are all that I have left to prove

Precious words won't bring you back to me
Precious words won't bring you back to me
You left my world empty
Now there's nothing to say
Precious words
Won't bring you back to me
