

Shattered

Switched

I can't believe
That all we'd be
Would waste away so miserably
And so damn many times
You hold me out to try
But the signs just passed me by

But I still can't just let this go
Until your dreams are shattered
Tear down the walls that stand between us
And realize its been so long
And you found someone

I remember the time
I watched you cry
There's no love inside
There's no hope alive

But I still can't just let this go
Until your dreams are shattered
Tear down the walls that stand between us
And realize its been so long
And you found someone

Believe the truth will never leave us
It's in your eyes
What's done is done
And you found someone

But I still can't just let this go
Until your dreams are shattered
Shattered, shattered
Tear down the walls that stand between us
And realize its been so long
And you found someone

Believe the truth will never leave us
It's in your eyes
What's done is done
And you found someone

Shattered, shattered, shattered, shattered
And you found someone
Shattered, shattered, shattered, shattered
And you found someone
