Love Drunk

Been here before again and again Seen it before I know how this ends My heart than yours It drips than it pours Till it seeps into the wooden floors But I adore the way it feels To switch when I don't feel real And I'll watch you suffer too So don't feel bad for what you do

I've watched you stab away at my heart And baby it's my favorite part Make me feel miserable like you always do Make me fall in love with you

Oh babe I'm just a little love drunk But just enough to fill the space

Now it's your turn feel What it's like to not be real Don't worry babe just part of the deal

I don't need it anymore Fuck yes I do I need every little part of you No wait, burn in hell I have a secret to tell

Oh babe my heart feels so numb So top me off just in case

My secrets this Listen up it's not something to miss I've been so fucked from the devil's pretty little kiss Now it's your turn feel What it's like to not be real Don't worry babe just part of the deal

Rewind, rewind Play it over again Sing me a song about being dead Rewind, rewind It's your turn this time Sing me a song about blood red wine Sworn In
