

HighTech versus LowLife

Sybreed

Were confined behind invisible barricades
A glyphic shroud of glorified lies

Kali Yuga And we slowly turn into cowards
The excess of truth isolate us

Forsaken, dismayed
We were told to mask the void inside
Our disabled hearts in subtle ways
Substitute faceless
Were dissolved into a sea of gray,
Constrained to settle for decay

Evolving careless on treacherous heights
We weaver between detachment and fear

Kali Yuga And we slowly turn into cowards
The excess of truth isolates us
Invalid notions dominate our will and judgment
We now become the waste of this world

Surrender to the cold obliteration of your ego
Desynchronized, forced to seclusion,
We are bound with cruel precision

Kali Yuga And slowly we turn into cowards
The excess of truth isolate us
