Timeless Traces

When I said I had no doubts while I tried to comfort you - did I tell You that I lied? When I gave you confidence though I feared the things
I knew - only secretly I cried Even when I felt so sad always t ried to Keep my smile - still don't know if I was right But though my f orce was Fading away, even my tears they dried out some day... finally I realised

And you gave me reasons forever Did you feel the faith you brought into my life And your timeless traces won't shatter When you see the glint of hope deep in my eyes

Leave your worries behind, leave your sorrows behind you Leave your worries behind, leave those troubles behind with a f eeling of quiet

Did you ever realise that I couldn't show my care when I held y our hand In mine Far to near the consequence that I might have broken do wn - I Assure you that I tried Still I have those words in mind, still Remember all my tears when we had to say goodbye But all my pai n has Faded away, even my sorrows dried out some day... in the end I realised
