

The Smile Has Left Your Eyes

Sylver

Words
are sometimes hard to find Silence
can be so unkind
You play with love like you play with words
Can't you see, it's me you hurt?
Now my dreams turn into dust
It wasn't love
It was only lust

Words
are sometimes hard to find Silence
can be so unkind

You're not the same
You're playing game
You've filled my heart with your lies
You're not the same
You're playing game
The smile has left your eyes

Words
are sometimes hard to find Silence
can be so unkind
You play with love like you play with words
Can't you see, it's me you hurt?
Love is always a losing game
I pack my bags and forget your name

You're not the same
You're playing game
You've filled my heart with your lies
You're not the same
You're playing game
The smile has left your eyes
