Fallen

Symphorce

As a shadow casts over my head I'm moving slowly through the endless dark Too late to stop my course Falling closer to fear you promise to make it worse

Thousand points of light shining But it's fire that's been tamed Scaring my fears away now Wake me when I'm insane

From somewhere my dreams and emotions Will take off my own memory Fallen away From somewhere the fear of devotion Is the gateway to my prophecy Fallen away

The conflict rises and I'm tangled in Like in the windings of an endless spring Believe in ghosts the deceptions sure Like the dead would laugh I'm tempted by the force

Eyes are blinded and I can't hide My thoughts begin to sway Ripped apart from the inside Perceive another way

From somewhere my dreams and emotions Will take off my own memory Fallen away From somewhere the fear of devotion Is the gateway to my prophecy Fallen away
