Go for it all

I don't wanna be okay, I just need to hear you say When nothing really goes your way, tomorrow is a brand new day Let me help you ease your mind, I'ma make you realize That tonight's your night Uh, I just want you to fly like a first class ticket on a mission through th e sky Never listen to the lies, keep me racing to the moon I just be slighter than the whispers in the room And them critics just assume you will never get do All the things you really love, such a pessimistic view Well let me tell you like mama told me Everything comes back, it's never always gon be So mama never home, and papa never sober You gotta keep climbin, the top is never closer The truth is like a fight that'll take you to the white And tomorrow gets brighter is you make it through the night, right? You got it, they can never take it They just gonna hate it cus they could never make it Better days are coming in this thing called life When rain go away a rainbow will say It's alright I don't wanna be okay, I just need to hear you say It's alright When nothing really goes your way, tomorrow is a brand new day It's alright Let me help you ease your mind, I'ma make you realize That tonight's your night So baby let's go for it all Why? You can find a smile We done made it to the sky, we ain't never comin down Remember all the nights you was wishin on a star I told you if you fight it'll get you from them all See? You just gotta say And I will bring you blue skies I'll make all your fake friends go away All they do is throw shade It's time to get the sunshine back and watch all these gray clouds blow away Okay you got it, they could never stop it They just gonna hate it cus they could never top it And even if you block it there's gotta be a way out If our work pay off there's gotta be a pay out Stay on start of bizzoc, stack your own brizzocks Into a building when you was feeling light Giving up you never did So I just came to let you know that if you never hit It's alright I don't wanna be okay, I just need to hear you say It's alright When nothing really goes your way, tomorrow is a brand new day It's alright Let me help you ease your mind, I'ma make you realize That tonight's your night So baby let's go for it all

T. Mills

Keep your eyes to the skies And baby, we'll go for it all Don't ask why, that's just right So baby, let's go for it all I don't wanna be okay, I just need to hear you say It's alright When nothing really goes your way, tomorrow is a brand new day It's alright Let me help you ease your mind, I'ma make you realize That tonight's your night So baby let's go for it all