There's gold in the mountains
And a people living in the sea

I love you and don't you know That you love me Yes you do

We make feasties of the beasties But the beasties just live in the wild

You know that you're slower now And you were faster when you were A child Yes you were.