Like Roses

Tabitha's Secret

Please don't make me answer you
The world is big but my circles are small
And please don't try to shut me out
I'm in love that's all

I'm not afraid to listen
If you're not afraid to hear

And please don't laugh, I just can't help Grinning when I'm giving it all And please don't show, you're face around my place I've seen it all before

And I'm not afraid of dying But sometimes I refrain

I believe that life goes on like a hurricane And you struggle through the pieces till you're not so sane anymore And so you want and you suffer till you've had enough And in the end, there's a heaven in the cold clear bluff, only want

To come through like roses
To head fast like a clear stream
To feel soft like a freight train
In the middle of a bad dream

All you wanted was to be proud Like a rough little soldier There's a place where the soul ends Comes through like roses Comes through like roses

Looking down, I see my cigarette is even
With the horizon that my feet have made in the blanket
Looking back I lost the fight it was uneven
You never gave me time enough to say I was wrong or I was sorry

I can see Your head's still spinning like a merry-go-round And you're glaring at the people Like you've been shut down quarter time

It's a war gonna win
No matter what it takes
And you can feel
Every second of the cold heartache coming down

To come through like roses
To head fast like a clear stream
To feel soft like a freight train
In the middle of a bad dream

All you wanted was to be proud Like a rough little soldier There's a place where the soul ends Comes through like roses Comes through like roses To come through like roses
To head fast like a clear stream
To feel soft like a freight train
In the middle of a bad dream

All you wanted was to be proud Like a rough little soldier There's a place where the soul ends Comes through like roses Comes through like roses
