

Just Guns And...

Tabula Rasa

It doesn't matter what we see, we're safe out here
Continue to listen to what there saying
Give the new place time, we're fenced in with all white
We've got guns and we're praying all night

Is your mind at ease
When you sleep?
Diffuse the threat
With small casualty
This hoax just
Something you bought
Care to try again?

Just created this pristine life to live
Everything all in order with wife and kids
Distance blurs what you see, as you're hiding from the truth
Are you sure everything looks fine to you?

Is your mind at ease
When you sleep?
Diffuse the threat
With small casualty
This hoax just
Something you bought
Care to try again?

Just fill them with fear so you can justify
What you want them to do
No turning back, how long can you pacify your youth?
The lash back will break the walls you've built out here
The foundation is breaking, the bomb is set
Can you put out the fuse?

The time is set
The countdown is close
So brace yourself
Find something to hold

The illusion will break down
You chose not to see
No town can save you know
It's time to leave again

Is your mind at ease
When you sleep?
Diffuse the threat
With small casualty
This hoax just
Something you bought
Care to try again?

Just fill them with fear so you can justify what you want them to do
No turning back, how long can you pacify your youth?
The lash back will break the walls you've built out here
The foundation is breaking, the bomb is set
Can you put out the fuse?
