Clearly Insane

Come it is time the sun will rise, and fall and in the night we hide The shadows call Don't turn away Don't speak a word And you'll be safe with me And through the night we glide Look! There's another light Come see what we can be

Night after night we shun day, the sun Each generation will come My race to run Degeneration of the mind And in the flesh we share Whatever we may find

Worship your masters Dance in the flames Live through this nightmare Playing their game Follow the blind man Time and again Take to this madness

Clearly insane Take to this madness Surrender your soul I say the time has come for all of you
