

Eternal Lies

Tad Morose

Hear them preach of eternal life if you've lived by all their rules
They try so hard to give you shelter from the cold, cold world outside
They try so hard to get into you
Fear eternal lies

I stand alone
Somewhere between what's right or wrong
If there's a God in heaven from whom the earth was given
I can't believe yet
I can't deny what's going on
Can't stay alive no place to go no place to hide

Keep on searching for the answers but the more you learn the less you know
I cannot scream and I cannot cry
So tell me why I feel this way Is it true what they say
There's no way out and I know it's true
