

Eternal Lies

Tad Morose

Hear them preach of eternal life if you've lived by all their rules

They try so hard to give you shelter from the cold, cold world outside

They try so hard to get into you

Fear eternal lies

I stand alone

Somewhere between what's right or wrong

If there's a God in heaven from whom the earth was given

I can't believe yet

I can't deny what's going on

Can't stay alive no place to go no place to hide

Keep on searching for the answers but the more you learn the less you know

I cannot scream and I cannot cry

So tell me why I feel this way Is it true what they say

There's no way out and I know it's true
