

Eyes Of A Stranger

Tad Morose

When you wake up cold and lonely can't remember where you've been
It's time to start believin' in a dream where there's no end
So much pain deep down in your mind
Is it real or is it just an illusion
Can you feel the darkness around you
You are alone but there's someone there

Don't be afraid of what's coming closer you can't be sure are you lost in a dream
There's no return of what's already started you don't know are you losing your mind
You're on your own nowhere to go You need someone to hold on to

You can't go on without faith and belief
Someone is calling you so far away

Fear the eyes of a stranger
You keep on steering through the darkness around you
You feel the presence of an unborn child his soul is black and so are his tears
The time has come to face the unknown locked up in chains you're bound to be scared
Caught in this nightmare there's nowhere to go
Show me the way to the promised land he reached out just take his hand
