

Eyes Of A Stranger

Tad Morose

When you wake up cold and lonely can't remember where you've been

It's time to start believin' in a dream where there's no end

So much pain deep down in your mind

Is it real or is it just an illusion

Can you feel the darkness around you

You are alone but there's someone there

Don't be afraid of what's coming closer you can't be sure are you lost in a dream

There's no return of what's already started you don't know are you losing your mind

You're on your own nowhere to go You need someone to hold on to

You can't go on without faith and belief

Someone is calling you so far away

Fear the eyes of a stranger

You keep on steering through the darkness around you

You feel the presence of an unborn child his soul is black and so are his tears

The time has come to face the unknown locked up in chains you're bound to be scared

Caught in this nightmare there's nowhere to go

Show me the way to the promised land he reached out just take his hand
