

Spirit World

Tad Morose

So tired, I fall asleep
Embraced by peace and calm
I feel a soothing breeze
Angels descending, a light divine I see
The peace and calm is gone
I begin to realize, they're coming for me

I see you
Can you feel me?
I'm standing next to you
I reach out
I try to touch you
Like a mist I walk through you

I am calling your name
Save me from this state of fear,
The burning flames

Release me from the spirit world
Back to life, I will hold on

I'm so near you
Why can't you hear me?
I can't get through to you
I'm screaming
There's no sound
Is there a way out? I wish I knew

I am calling your name
Save me from this state of fear,
The burning flames

Release me from the spirit world
Back to life, I will hold on

No no no, I'll never hurt a soul again
Please release me from these chains
