

The Leaves Will Change

Take Cover

You wrapped your fingers up in mine.
I remember sitting by your side,
while we waiting on your porch for your friends
to join us for a drink or two.
And our laughter filled the air,
everyone we cared about was there.
So I thought what better time to share this feeling and I turned to you and said.

"I don't think I'm ready for the leaves to change,
cuz I met you in the summer so please don't blow away.
When the wind picks up and it's colder everyday."
Oh, little do you know....
Oh

Because you're all mine,
You've got me dreaming a future with your beautiful eyes,
I'd do whatever they told me to.
I won't waste time when it comes to you,
because no one makes me feel like you do.
You make it easy girl.

Baby I've been waiting for my luck to change
and the moment that I saw you well it all just feel in place.
When the wind picks up, I will be there in every way.
And when push comes to shove it's the two of us,
just give me time and I'll prove it to you.
You'll see we've got nothing to lose.

Because you're all mine,
You've got me dreaming a future with your beautiful eyes,
I'd do whatever they told me to.
I won't waste time when it comes to you
?

If it's never enough to simply follow your gut,
won't you take a chance and put some faith in me?
Won't you take a chance?

'Cause you're all mine,
You've got me dreaming a future with your beautiful eyes,
I'd do whatever they told me to.
I won't waste time when it comes to you
When it comes to you
When it comes to you
I won't waste time when it comes to you because no one makes me feel like you