

Affirmation

Take That

It's just a fraction of time,
Until we move in reverse,
Can feel the pressure and all the minds,
And the whole Universe.
It is a question of force,
And of a physical law,
We've had this battle a thousand times,
Never been here before,
Never been here before.

Haven't got the strength to fight anymore,
Got no desire to die anymore,
I need an affirmation
I want to see you again, again, again...
Haven't got the strength to fight anymore,
Don't even know what I'm fighting you for
I need an affirmation
I need an affirmation

We're at the end of the line
At the start of the race
I want to swim where the water falls
Off the edge of your face
I'm reaching out for the light
Past the silhouette of you
In the cold reflection of time
Is a point of view, is a point of view
Can you see me like I see you?
Can you see me like I see you?

Haven't got the strength to fight anymore,
Got no desire to die anymore,
I need an affirmation
I want to see you again, again, again...
Haven't got the strength to fight anymore,
Don't even know what I'm fighting you for
I need an affirmation
I need an affirmation

I wanna fill you with love
I wanna see you survive
Just take a second to know yourself
For the rest of your life
We're just a minute away
From the place where we wanna be
We're not really falling apart
We're just incomplete
We're not really falling apart
We're just incomplete
We're just incomplete
We're just incomplete

I need an affirmation [7x]
I want to see you again, again, again...
