Nobody Else

Making my way through photographs Of the night when you first stood by my side Old friends with smiles some are here some are gone Good memories of our senior high Looking back we're the only couple still together Even then I knew this love would be forever, I knew

Cause there's nobody else in the world that could love you Anymore than I do, always here for you Nobody else in the world could love you more Nobody could love you anymore than I do I'm still here for you

Our lives have all changed we've come a long long way Our faces show the lines of two young songs And in their houses there will be pictures Like the ones of you and me Hope they can look back and smile just like we have done Never once have I felt the need for another We were strong and survived the storm in time to discover

Cause there's nobody else in the world that could love you Anymore than I do, always here for you Nobody else in the world could love you more Nobody could love you anymore than I do I'm still here for you

All of the smiles we have won Just from looking back and reliving all the good times And when we've been through all the pages We just start again, oh

Cause there's nobody else in the world that could love you Anymore than I do, always here for you Nobody else in the world could love you more Nobody could love you anymore than I do I'm still here for you
