

You're Right

Take The Crown

I can feel this rushing through me, always, always.
You were the one that got away from me.
Getting your attention and you never thought it would end like this,
You never thought it would, never thought you would.
Slowly lose your breath until there's nothing left.
You're right, you're right, you were right though all of this.
I'm writing the same song again. You're right, you're right, we get what we ask for...
Letting repetition hold us back again in, this perfect example.
They all know what bleeds through walls doesn't last forever.
Slowly lose your breath until there's nothing left.
You're right, you're right, you were right through all of this,

I'm writing the same song again. You're right, you're right, we get what we ask for.
On and on feelings surround us, on and on feelings surround,
You're right, you're right... you were right through all of thi
