

Never Alone Always Alone

Takida

Hold on tight, be the strong one to melt the fight, make it all right
Hatred grows, leaving leads for us, yes it shows, can't find harmony
You won't heal, It's for real

Surely fall, never take friendship personal, go your own way and prove them wrong
It's in your hands now, hanging on to the hopeful words, plant a seed with a need

I am never alone, I'm failing now to turn
I will never miss home, I want to get back again
My colors will burn, always alone

Fearful eyes watching all around, all this time with no heart and you never cry
Where's the power in that? It's not right, sending signals of shame
I once knew, so did you

Breathing lies and your tears streaming timely now, so