

Too Late

Takida

It's not too late, It's not tomorrow Let go of the hate, let go of your sorrow

Inpatient raid, hoping to see you Please don't escape, I want t o hold you

Cause the one thing I have is a burden to bear Remorse is haunt ing, I swear

Keeping the faith, but wonder of lonesome Frustrated again, it feels so wrong

Restless wait for something that's over Trying to rate, trying to be sober

I want to wake up with you Hold me closer I'm here All the thin gs we been through Before it's too late, be mine

By nightfall you call, I must be dreaming Empty walls, empty fe elings

A demon of fear kills the big wild Shameful tears, soon it's al right

I'm leaving tonight, the loneliest ride Our love is gone for al l time Calling the cold ones All I have Now It's too late, now It's tomorrow I cannot hate, let go of m y sorrow