There's no one likes the other It's in your hands
It lies in all our hands
Listen to your mother
Break free from the fence
It's when you cry it all ends

And you learn like a shadow flows in the rain Like a foreign flame in the dark Showing you the way

Bringing you the fire I will love you I will hurt you too All we need is cover From the no lovers From the cold others

And you learn like a shadow flows in the rain Like a foreign flame in the dark Showing you the way And you learn What we fell now isn't pain Just a scent of it is enought Blinding me with grace

There's no have to do it your way Like a shadow flows in the rain

And you learn
And you learn, and you learn, learn

Like a shadow flows in the rain Like a foreign flame in the dark Showing you the way

And you learn
What we fell now isn't pain
Just a scent of it is enought
Blinding me with grace

And you learn like a shadow flows in the rain Like a foreign flame in the dark Showing you the way And you learn
