And I'm not so sure
if I'm sure of anything anymore
Well this is the last night (this is the last night)
that you'll be keepin'
secrets from me
Just hit the lights before you leave you know, the million things you had to say sorry just, just might have found it's way in there somehow, someway
But don't worry sweetie
cause I already know
And I'm not so sure
if I'm sure of anything anymore
Well this is the last night (this is the last night)
that you'll be keepin'
secrets from me
And you're so guilty it's disgusting
He's been sneakin underneath your sheets and your hands
have been in places that they probably shouldn't go
but don't worry sweetie
cause I already know
Regardless if my pictures
they don't line your mirror
Regardless you know that I'll still wait for your call
Regardless if my pictures
they don't line your mirror
Regardless you know that
I'll still wait for your call
Honestly, this is the last time that I see you
(They don't line your mirror)
(Regardless...)
(I'll still wait for your call)
Do you know what your girl's been up to?
