Tammy Cochran

I Used To Be That Woman

Rumors spread Lies are told Covering up a lover So nobody knows Deceit and denial Foolish alibis One innocent soul gets burned

I used to be that woman I used to be that woman She'll soon find out... the hard way about him It won't take too long This small towns talking And it'll hurt like hell And break her heart I know ...I used to be that woman

She's even asked if there's someone else Then she says she's sorry for having doubts She'll lose a little weight Maybe color her hair Do anything to spark the fire that's no longer there

I used to be that woman I used to be that woman She'll soon find out ..the hard way about him It won't take too long This small towns talking And it'll hurt like hell And break her heart I know ...I used to be that woman

When I see what's being done My mind goes back in time When I was one who believed those lies

I used to be that woman I used to be that woman She'll soon find out the hard way about him It won't take too long This small towns talking And it'll hurt like hell And break her heart I know ...I used to be that woman

I used to be that woman I used to be that woman