

Say Goodbye

Tammy Cochran

It's time to step outside these walls I call my life
And take a long, hard look at who I am.
I've never been one to fly; never known how or why.
But, tonight, it's all wearing thin.
I've caught glimpses of who I want to be,
And the only thing standing in my way is me.

Say goodbye to the girl you used to know.
Say hello to the woman you'll never know.

Guess I could blame myself for being something else,
And being too afraid to make my stand.
But, I've been carved out and held down in self-created chains.
So, please let go as I close the door and walk away.

Say goodbye to the girl you used to know.
Say hello to the woman you'll never know.
Ahhhh.

Say goodbye to the girl you used to know.
Say hello to the woman you'll never know.
To the woman you'll never know.
